

As Historians, our big question is... Were the Vikings always vicious and victorious?

REMEMBERING

Prior Learning

I know about events in the past.

I know events have happened internationally

I know about important people in the past

I can understand how evidence can be used to form opinions

UNDERSTANDING

Sticky Knowledge

Can I explain how the Anglo Saxons tried to bring law and order?

Laws, rules

Can I investigate how Britain was divided into kingdoms?

Where, why, how does that impact us now?

Can I show where the Vikings originated from?

Use a map to show where the Vikings came from

Can I understand why the Vikings and Anglo Saxons were in conflict?

Different views, farming land, Danelaw

Can I explore why the Vikings frequently won battles?

Weapons, warriors, daily life

Key texts

APPLYING

My Aspiration

Do you like investigating past events? You could become an historian and share your findings about important events. You could even try and change people's thoughts about a person or an event. An archaeologists investigates events from the past by looking for evidence that has survived.

Vocabulary

invade	raiders	longship	Danelaw	kingdom	shield	long sword
Occupy land to take over from others	A group of people making a surprise attack	A long, narrow war ship powered by oars	The law in force in part of England before the Norman conquest	An area of land ruled by a king or queen	A broad piece of metal with straps to act as protection	A long sword that could be held with 2 hands